Since 2002, Trilogy Construction has managed the construction of numerous high-end residential and commercial projects across South Florida—from custom oceanfront residences to commercial work. John DiDonna, Trilogy's President, and graduate of the University of Florida Rinker School of Building Construction, offers a qualitative approach backed by experience that all clients demand. As a state-certified general contractor, John uses only the finest trade partners, craftsmen and technology on each project. Teamed with incomparable quality, 24/7-customer service, and total client satisfaction, Trilogy Construction prides itself on attention to detail, a keen understanding of timing and budgets, and uncompromising professionalism.

“Our home came out fabulous; we could not have chosen a better general contractor. Trustworthy, reliable and the workmanship is the best we have ever seen. It was a pleasure to build our home with John.”

- Sammi Haggin, Client

< This custom chandelier is a signature element of the Haggin's home. It boasts 711 individual pieces of hand blown glass and 900 LED lights.

v John DiDonna worked with his client, Sammi Haggin (shown here), on the remodel of her home designed by Randall Stofft in Sea Ranch Lakes.

1. What led you to your current profession?
 My interest in construction started at childhood, especially after my first job assisting a General Contractor at age 13. This led me to pursue Building Construction in college.
2. How long have you been involved in your profession?
 Fifteen years ago I started as a superintendent for one of the nation's largest residential builders. I then worked on custom homes as a general contractor until starting Trilogy in 2002.
3. How do you think your clients would characterize you?
 My clients compliment my patience and perseverance on a regular basis and would probably characterize me as a “calming force.”
4. Which projects have brought you the most satisfaction and why?
 I was fortunate to work with Frank McKinney on an oceanfront estate home that sold for over $24 million. It was an incredible project with some truly unique features.
5. What is your most prized possession?
 My three young boys—they constantly motivate me and keep me in check.
